GLOVE GUIDE

Leather

Cow: Most popular leather due to its abrasion resistance and attractive appearance.

Pig: Has the greatest breathability and is flexible after repeat wetting and use.

Goat: Soft and very abrasion-resistant. Has high natural lanolin content.

Deer: Naturally one of the softest leathers and has excellent dexterity. Has the highest tensile strength.

Linings

Pile: A synthetic wool that is relatively inexpensive and has a realistic similarity to genuine wool.

3M Thinsulate™: This is the warmest thin insulation. Even in damp conditions it has the ability to retain its insulation.

Fleece: The most commonly used glove liner, made of napped brushed cotton.

Thermal: A thin cotton or polyester fabric, that helps keep hands warm during winter and cool during summer.

Cuff Style

Band Top: A band of material sewn to the glove for wrist protection. It is very economical, easy to remove, and has good circulation.

Knit Wrist: Stretchable ribbed knit for a snug fit and helps prevent dirt and materials from getting inside.

Safety Cuff: Generally it is a 2 ¼ -2 ½ inch cuff. Provides protection and allows easy movement for the wrist and hand.

Gauntlet Cuff: An extra long cuff, generally it is 4-6 inches. It provides protection for the wrist and the forearm.

Slip-On: This is constructed without a cuff. It is easy to slip on and off.

Cuff Material

Denim: Economical single-fabric material

Leather: Long wear and most durable

Plasticized: Waterproof and washable

Rubberized: Abrasion resistant and water resistant

Starched: Economical two layers of fabric laminated then starched

Thumb Style

Straight: Design that points the thumb vertically from the wrist. It is the most economical, and is cut as one piece with the palm.

Wing: The angled construction allows good flexibility; it has no seams on the palm side to obstruct work.

Keystone: Allows the most freedom of movement and is the most comfortable.
